

Hey! Nathan here. You're getting this email because you have access to Lex, the AI-powered word processor.

Today I have a pro tip for you that seems like a really small thing, but I love it, and I wish every other text editor worked this way.

When you're writing and you want to create a heading, all you have to do is hit enter and then type the # sign!

- "#" makes a Heading 1
- "##" makes a Heading 2
- "###" makes a Heading 3

...you get the idea.

Here's a gif showing it in action:

This is just a nice little quality of life thing that I wanted to make sure more people knew about.

Hope you find it useful!
